Letter of invitation:

University of Melbourne Global Biolmaging Train-the-Trainer 2025 Course

To Whom It May Concern,

I would like to confirm that Wei-Chen Chu from Institute of Cellular and Organismic Biology, Academia Sinica, Taiwan, is invited to participate in the Global Biolmaging Train-the-Trainer 2025 Course¹. The course will take place on 17-21 November in Melbourne at the Western Edge Biosciences, University of Melbourne².

Event information:

- Event: Global Biolmaging Train-the-Trainer 2025 Course
- Venue location: University of Melbourne Western Edge Biosciences, Parkville VIC 3010, Melbourne
- Dates: 17-21 November 2025

Wei-Chen Chu has been awarded a travel grant of EUR 2,500 (two thousand five hundred euros) issued by the Global Biolmaging open network, which is coordinated by the European Molecular Biology Laboratory (EMBL), an intergovernmental research organisation headquartered in Heidelberg, Germany. The award includes reimbursement of eligible expenses, such as a round-trip airline ticket, accommodation costs, airport shuttle services, public transportation during the event, and visa-related costs.

In case of any questions about the travel award, please contact the Global Biolmaging Training Program Manager, Gleb Grebnev, at: grebnev@embl.de.

The course is jointly organized by Microscopy Australia³, Australian Microscopy & Microanalysis Society⁴, and Global Biolmaging⁵, an international, open network of imaging infrastructures and communities. Global Biolmaging consists of 13 partner organizations including Microscopy Australia and 65 countries around the globe. Global Biolmaging is coordinated by the European Molecular Biology Laboratory (EMBL)⁶, an intergovernmental organization dedicated to molecular biology research.

In case of any questions, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Yours faithfully,
